Grievance Redressal Process

In response to requests from Sivaprasad K J, Anoop S, Lekshmi P A, Varsha S A, Anandhu U R, Arya R S, M Ganga, Kiran S and Chithra B, consideration was made for conducting an offline retest for the all the papers of BCom Semester 3 during the academic year 2020-21. This decision was prompted by the challenges faced during the online internal exams conducted due to the prevailing COVID-19 situation. Several students expressed difficulties with the online examination format, citing issues such as technical glitches, connectivity problems, and concerns about the authenticity of the assessment process. The objective was to address these concerns and provide an alternative offline examination mode.

A thorough investigation was conducted to evaluate the feasibility of transitioning from online to offline exams. Factors such as the logistical challenges of arranging offline exams, the time required for coordination, and the continued impact of the COVID-19 situation were carefully considered.

After investing time and resources into exploring the possibility of conducting offline exams, it was ultimately decided not to proceed with this option. The decision was based on the recognition of the practical challenges involved, the potential delay in the examination process, and the need to prioritize the health and safety of students during the ongoing pandemic.

Clear and transparent communication was maintained throughout the decision-making process. Students were informed of the considerations, challenges, and the ultimate decision not to conduct offline exams. Additionally, alternative measures were explored to address concerns related to the online examination format.

Conclusion:

While the request for an offline retest was carefully considered, the decision not to proceed with it was made to ensure the timely completion of assessments and prioritize the health and safety of students. Alternative measures were implemented to address the challenges faced during the online examination.

In future instances of online assessments, proactive measures will be explored to minimize technical issues and enhance the overall online examination experience for students. This may include improved technical support, clear guidelines, and mock exams to familiarize students with the online examination platform.
